4th Battalion, 23rd Infantry Regiment

Unit Mission protection Council (UMPC)

Concept Brief

"TOMAHAWKS"

UMPC MISSION

4-23IN will establish Platoon level Unit Mission Protection Councils (UMPC) once per quarter in order to identify potential risks during on and off duty training and activities

Battalion Commander's Intent

The ultimate intent of the UMPC is to minimize risk to our soldiers! We will do this by identifying risk and reduction measures collectively at the beginning of each quarter verses by individual event.

Battalion Commander's Intent

- Key Tasks
  - Each Company will conduct a Unit Mission Protection Council (UMPC) at PLT Level once per quarter.
  - Each platoon will stress the Army Safety Campaign of "Be Safe."
  - Each platoon will identify risks for on and off duty.
  - Include all members of the platoon in the discussion process.

- Endstate. Initiate the battalion's UMPC Program and educate all Tomahawk Soldiers on what UMPC is, the Army Safety Campaign, and the hazards and environment in Alaska. Each company poised to incorporate the UMPC each quarter to help mitigate risk in the future.

UMPC CONCEPT

- The UMPC is to be conducted at the platoon level with all soldiers once per quarter.
- In conjunction with Company and Battalion QTBs.
- The platoon leadership will use the quarterly training guidance and key dates of the quarter to asses to potential risks both tactical and non tactical.
- Platoon assesses and discusses risks and possible ways to mitigate risk.
- Platoon presents identified risks to command for inclusion in QTB.
- Command is aware and can discuss risks during QTB process.

UNIT MISSION PROTECTION COUNCIL

"Raise the Bar and Protect the Mission"
